Hawaii Family Forum is a 501(C)(3) organization and as such will never endorse or oppose candidates or public parties. We would like to acknowledge that we understand these questions are much more complicated than a simple yes or no but we wanted to get to the candidates' root beliefs on these topics — only allowing them to answer yes, no, undecided/unsure or to decline to answer the question altogether. Therefore, we ask readers to take this into consideration while reading the yes-or-no answers. We strongly encourage people in the community to make direct contact with their candidates. To that end, we have provided the phone numbers for candidates as provided by the Office of Elections. If we were provided email addresses and candidate websites, we have provided that information as well.

QUESTIONS FOR THE CANDIDATES

- Would you vote for legislation establishing term limits for legislators?
- Would you vote for legislation legalizing physician-assisted suicide in
- Would you vote for legislation giving religious organizations the right to refuse outside groups from using their facilities for activities relating to same-sex marriage
- Would you vote for legislation creating tuition tax credits or vouchers to help struggling families choose the school they consider best for their children?
- Would you vote for legislation to ban minors from participating in reparative therapy, also known as conversion therapy? Would you vote for legislation establishing legalized gambling in Hawai'i? If
- yes, what kind?
- Would you vote for legislation that supports the President's executive order requiring public schools to allow students to use the bathroom and shower facilities based on the child's gender identity (rather than their birth gender?)

- 8. Would you vote for legislation that legalizes recreational marijuana for all
- 9. Would you vote for legislation that specifies that parents or guardians should be notified before a minor can have an abortion?
- 10. Would you vote for a Religious Freedom Restoration Act in Hawai'i?
- 11. Would you vote for legislation increasing taxes to establish more immediate affordable housing in Hawai'i?
- 12. Would you vote for legislation that requires employers to pay men and women the same salary for the same job?

Essay Question: What is the number one priority issue for you for the 2017-2018 legislation session? How will you make a difference on this issue?

After polling people in my district, I have discovered that the major concerns are the proposed loss of our nospital, threats to hunting and fishing rights and attacks on our first and second amendment rights. My goal is to protect our hospital by proposing public/ private partnerships, voting against the proposed enlarging of marine monuments which will affect fishing and hunting, and standing to proect our ability to worship freely and to bear arms.

In 2017, the Governor will try to increase taxes on car registrations, car weight, and gasoline. There will also be a serious push by Mayor Caldwell to get us to extend the G.E.T. tax for the rail for another 5 years; and lastly there will be a serious push to pass assisted suicide. My priority for the 2017 session is thus to defeat the above measures while pushing for more affordable housing and small business.

Homeless issues are the main concern in my district. I started a "self-funded" shelter in Alaska. In a three year period, 2,500 men, women and children found shelter, food, and employment at "A Bed of Roses". I have the experience needed to resolve homeless issues. 500 housing units sit in disrepair and empty on Oahu because of lack of permits, and labor issues. Fix these and rehome hundreds of the homeless. Go to elect Kathryn Henski and read the articles

#1 Priority would be to create legislation that protects our children, elderly and strengthen the family as well as find ways to leave more of the peoples money in their pockets and send less to the capitol.

Primary Election

The Primary Election is held to nominate candidates to represent the political parties in the General Election. This nomination process, called a Single Party Primary, asks voters to select candidates from the party of their choice. Similarly, candidates who do not belong to a specific party will be nominated to the General Election ballot as a nonpartisan candidate. Your choice of party and candidates remains secret. Candidates for the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, and county contests also appear on the Primary Election ballot. All voters may vote in these contests regardless of party affiliation.
